

Tutoring

Tutoring is here to help students develop skills and strategies that will assist them in becoming independent, active learners and in achieving academic success. We offer tutoring five days a week to both on-campus and online students.

Our trained staff consists of retired professionals, adjuncts, graduate students and peer tutors. We are a friendly staff and happy to help all college students.

Edge for Success

The Writing Studio

The Writing Studio at RCGC helps students improve their writing across disciplines and genres. We parallel the College's larger mission of promoting "intellectual and cultural enrichment, individual achievement and professional development." To that end, The Writing Studio seeks to de-mystify the writing process and empower student writers to develop effective strategies for any writing situation. We strive to create a campus culture in which student learning goes beyond the classroom.

Frequently Asked Questions

Do I need to pay for tutoring?

No, tutoring is free for the subjects in which you are currently enrolled.

Do I have to make an appointment?

No, we have tutors available for most subjects throughout the week. Stop by anytime to get help right away or to check tutors' schedules for your classes.

What do I need to bring?

Bring your Banner ID# and all materials for the course(s) in which you wish to be tutored.

How long is a tutoring session?

Generally, a half hour is allotted for composition tutoring sessions and an hour for all other subjects.

When should I seek tutoring?

At the Academic Support Center, we like to say, "come early, come often." This is especially true for courses you find challenging. Don't wait until you fall behind to start seeking help.

If I'm doing well in my class, can tutoring help me do even better?

We hope so. The Academic Support Center is a learning enhancement center designed to assist students who are having difficulty in a course and those who are doing well. Students who are doing well may need to fine-tune concepts or practice new concepts.
