

National Centers of Academic Excellence in Cyber Defense Program of Study Validation

The Rowan College of South Jersey Cybersecurity, AS, has achieved the CAE-CD Program of Study Validation from the National Security Agency (NSA).

This prestigious validation is an external recognition that strengthens the program/curriculum for our students. The Cybersecurity Program's "ability to meet the increasing demands of the program validation will serve the nation well in contributing to the protection of the National Information Infrastructure." National Security Agency (NSA), 2022. Students graduating from the program will obtain a certificate for completing the CAE-CD Program of Study.

We are grateful for the continuous support from the administration, faculty, staff, NSA/CAE committees, Industry, and collegiate partners for helping us achieve this recognition.
